

SLADE WAIVES HIS PRELIMINARY

Does Not Care to Go Into Details of His Case at Present.

BOND INCREASED TO $3,000

CHARGE WILL BE INVESTIGATED BY GRAND JURY.

C. C. Slade, arrested Saturday night on the charge of robbing the United States mails, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Charles Baldwin Tuesday morning and through his attorney, P. P. Christensen, waived the preliminary examination. On motion of United States District Attorney H. E. Booth, Slade's bond was raised to $3,000, and he is now being held under $3,000 bonds to await the action of the federal grand jury, which convenes in 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Slade, accompanied by his wife, P. P. Christensen, his attorney, and several friends, including A. J. Davis and Thomas Homer, went to the office of Commissioner Baldwin. During the proceedings, Slade hardly raised his eyes from the floor and paid but little attention to his surroundings. At the close of the proceedings he left the commissioner's office in company with his wife, going directly to their home on Third avenue. In his friends and shook hands with them.

After the amount of the bond had been raised by Commissioner Baldwin, the first bond placed by Mrs. Slade and Russell L. Tracy was released. The new bond was made out with the former, and secured by A. Fred Wey, Don H. Porter, Russell L. Tracy and Samuel C. Sherrill. At the present time there is only one count against Slade, the robbery of the United States mails in the Salt Lake postoffice on the night of Jan. 16, in stealing therefrom the sum of $25, the money being two $5 notes, one $10 note and one $1 greenback. The letter opened by Slade was addressed to Miss Susie Miller, 909 Princeton avenue, Salt Lake City, and was from her brother, Bert Miller, of Park City. Whether or not the grand jury will find other charges against Slade is not known, but it is known that no other allegations will be made until after investigation by the grand jury.

Postoffice Inspector Durand denied absolutely yesterday the story that Slade was suspected of having taken funds from the stamp and money order departments. He said that Slade was never in any way connected with those departments and, furthermore, no shortages had ever been found or reported from either the money order or the stamp department. According to Inspector Durand, the story is groundless. During the past six months it has been reported to the inspectors and the postmaster of the Salt Lake office that about $700 has been abstracted from the mails. The officials at the office are not, however, of the opinion that Slade is responsible for the taking of the entire amount. The exact amount of money secured by Slade during his operations is not known by the officials and probably never will be known. Postmaster A. E. Thomas has not been told of the alleged theft of Slade's arrest and it is expected that the order for his removal from the service will be received here within a few days.

FANCY PRICES OFFERED.

Helena, Mont., Jan. 19.—Montana wool growers are being offered prices in advance of any previous year by Boston wool buyers, and the statement is made that the dealers in the Massachusetts city hope to defeat the plan for the erection of a large wool house by the wool growers in Chicago, assisted by Chicago capital. A Boston dealer today bought 400,000 pounds of Thomas Cruse of Helena at 25 cents per pound.

RUSH FOR THE EXITS.

New York, Jan. 19.—Fire today burned out the upper floors of a four-story factory building at 327 Broadway, near Twelfth street. There was a panicky rush for the street among the sixty or more men employed by a manufacturer who was taking on the floors affected by the fire. No one was injured. Loss $25,000.

HANDS AND FEET ITCHED 12 YEARS

Suffered Terribly from Eczema which Made Hands and Feet Swell, Peel and Get Raw—Arms Affected, Too—Gave Up Hope of Cure.

USED CUTICURA AND WAS QUICKLY CURED

"I suffered from eczema on my hands, arms and feet for about twelve years, my hands and feet would swell, sweat and itch, then would become callous and get very dry, then peel off and get raw. I tried most every kind of salve and ointment without success, only got temporary relief. As soon as I would leave off using them I would be as bad as ever. I tried several doctors, took arsenic for two years and at last gave up thinking there was a cure for eczema. A friend of mine insisted on my trying the Cuticura Remedies but, saying they were the best he had ever used, I had tried. I did not give them a trial until I got so bad that I had to do something. I secured a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent and by the time they were used I could see a vast improvement and my hands and feet were healed up in no time. I used several bottles of Cuticura Resolvent. This was over a year ago and have had no trouble since. I think I am entirely cured. Charles T. Bauer, R.F.D. 65, Volant, Pa., Mar. 11, 1908."

POLICE COURT GLIMPSES

Salt Lake is about to lose one of its familiar street characters. By Thursday the spectacle of the slim, scantily clad fellow of youthful appearance, who for weeks past has haunted the principal business corners during the busy afternoon and night hours standing by the curb and hand and his unseeing eyes with the filmy covering staring upwards, will be missing. The fellow, who gives his name as Joseph Clinton, has been ordered to leave the city under penalty of serving a sentence in the jail.

Much of the charity usually shown towards unfortunate, and especially the blind and crippled, is withheld in Judge Bowman's court yesterday afternoon when Clinton was called to answer to the charge of having violated the license ordinance by peddling on the streets without a license or permission. It was reported that Clinton had been seen peddling "pest," and that prominent business firms in front of whose places he would take up his stand, had complained to the police frequently. Some doubt was raised as to the genuineness of his affliction, and it was said that he was to be found in the late hours of the night, and that he had been seen to play pool. Clinton made a strong plea to be permitted to remain in Salt Lake and ply his calling of a peddler on the streets, saying that this was his only means of support for himself and wife. He asked the judge to give him until Saturday, but would not promise that in the meantime he would cease soliciting alms on the streets. Judge Bowman fixed the time for his sentence on Thursday, intimating that he should be out of the city by that time.

The cases of the city against Hazel May, Babe Rivers and May Shelley, charged with frequenting houses of ill-repute, will not likely be appealed to the district court. Following the overruling of the demurrers, Attorney Newton yesterday entered a plea of not guilty, and Prosecutor Rogers asked that the cases be continued without date. When Judge Bowman demurred to this action, asking that a definite date be set for the trial, it was intimated that the prosecution felt that it would be difficult for it to secure satisfactory proof that the lodging house in which the women were arrested was of general ill-repute, and that a conviction would be difficult to secure. The cases, however, were set for Thursday.

AMUSEMENTS

Cohan & Harris, under whose management the George Cohan musical comedy, "Fifty Miles From Boston," will be presented at the Salt Lake theatre tomorrow night, have again given the production a cast of well known players.

Miss Hazel Lowry appears as the demure New England postmistress, a role which is said to be well suited to her dainty personality. Mr. Cohan wrote the part especially for Miss Lowry, and is said to have given her some good songs, "Jack and Jill" being the most catchy of them.

Miss Suzanne Leonard Westford is the sister of Miss Lillian Russell, and is a tall, statuesque beauty, with a charming manner. She appears in the role of a play as a typical New England gossip, and her song, "Ain't It Awful," is said to be especially clever. Others in the cast are Thomas Emory, W. Douglas Stevenson, Joseph Sparks, Walter P. Richardson, Charles Willard, Russell Pincus and Percy Heiton. All have won their spurs as competent actors.

"Six Hopkins" was given before a second good audience at the Salt Lake theatre last evening. There will be a matinee as well as an evening performance today.

That "The Girl of the Golden West" is one of the most popular plays ever produced in Salt Lake is proven by the demand that has been made on the box office of the Colonial theatre this week for the return of the piece. In consequence, "The Girl of the Golden West" will be reproduced, starting tonight, for the balance of the week with a matinee Saturday. Evening at 8 o'clock. Matinee Saturday at 2 o'clock.

Willard Mack will open the new Bungalow theatre on State street with Paul Armstrong's play, "The Heir to the Throne." Mr. Mack's arrangement with Manager Curt is a permanent one, and as long as the public responds he will produce, as heretofore, the very best royalty productions at popular prices. His month at the Colonial has broken all house records for attendance, and as he is now firmly established as a favorite here, there is believed to be no question regarding the success of the Bungalow.

If the advance sales are to be taken as an indication, the Grand will do the biggest business this week that it has done in over a year. That Mr. Lorch and his company are proving winners in their presentation of "The Lieutenant and the Cowboy," is evident from the number of reservations already made for seats for the rest of the week. Some of the reservations already made are for box parties, which will be given by a number of well known Salt Lake residents. This afternoon a matinee performance will be given.

"Wireless" is the title of one of the headline acts to be seen at the Orpheum this week. This sketch is replete with clever situations and keen dialogue, but a scientific interest is also attached to it, as the apparatus used in the production is a real genuine wireless instrument complete in every detail, and messages can be sent and received on it. The instrument is seen in full operation on the stage during the act of Leander Cordova and his supporting company.

At the Lyric this week one can see good comedy, drama and educational films. They are all of a high order, and are pleasing large audiences every evening. A lecture on "Ancient and Modern Rome" has been added, and is one of the features of the week.

To The Salt Lake Herald: I saw George Primrose dance again last night. Now, if I could only hear him sing "Silver Moon" again, I would leave it to the tombstone maker to write my epitaph, so be it we are just peaceful and happy in the chisel. J. B.

BILLS BY SMOOT.

(Special to The Herald.)

Washington, Jan. 19.—Senator Smoot today introduced a bill directing the secretary of the interior, after examination and classification of phosphate lands by the geological survey, to restore such lands to entry and settlement when it can be done without prejudice to the government. It proposes the creation of a commission to examine claims and entries of phosphate lands with a view to clearing and establishing their validity, and authorizes the secretary of the interior to lease phosphate lands on terms prescribed by him. Mr. Smoot also introduced bills revising the patent laws relating to procedure of the patent office.

and those against Irene Howard, Bell Hamilton and Grace Howell, of a most similar nature, were set for Friday.

John Rowe was called on yesterday to make a hurried departure from his old haunts in Salt Lake, being given little more than two hours to say good-bys to his friends and reach the city limits. Rowe at first was a little stubborn about admitting that he was a vagrant, but changed his mind when he saw the alternative of breaking rocks for thirty days or traveling the road.

On motion of Prosecutor Rogers the case of the city vs. E. C. Merrill, charged with a violation of the public food ordinance as it relates to milk, was dismissed. Mr. Rogers informed the court that after chemical analysis conducted by State Chemist Herman Harms it had developed that the evidence failed to show a clear violation of the law.

The "speeder's mite," in the form of a $2 fine, was contributed by twelve drivers frequently grasped yet. Eight forfeited their bail of $2, one pleaded guilty and was fined $2, while three attempted to prove to the court that their guilt was not intentional. They, too, however, were called on for the $2 contribution. John Mallin's excuse was ingenious. He had only been driving the horse for about two weeks, and had discovered that the boy who had preceded him on the wagon had been in the habit of pulling on the reins whenever he whipped the animal. When Mallin, at the time of his arrest, attempted to slow down the horse he neared the crossing, the horse thought there was to be a flick of the lash, and immediately jumped forward.

Four men, three of them being soldiers, had imbibed too freely for their own good, and on the morning of Jan. 19, in case it was their first appearance in the court room, and that they had not created any disturbance, they were discharged.

W. Riley committed the double offense of stealing an trunk and attempting to sell phony jewelry without the necessary license, and for the latter was fined $10. His services will be at the call of the city for ten days.

YOUTHFUL THIEVES ARE CAUGHT IN THE ACT

Were Stealing Oats From Pat Moran's Barn and Two Were Arrested.

Three youths were caught in the act of stealing oats from one of the barns belonging to Pat Moran, at the rear of the Crystal bar, on First South street below West Temple, shortly after 10 o'clock last night. The quick and clever work of Patrolman Harris resulted in the arrest of two of the boys. Those arrested gave their names as William King and George Smith. Their companion, who made his escape, could not be located last night.

The trio had driven up to the barn and were discovered loading sacks of oats into a buggy by a lad living in that vicinity, and who was driving to the barn with a horse kept there. Suspecting that a theft was being committed, the boy found Patrolman Harris and told what he had seen. Where Harris turned through the rear door of the Crystal bar, he was seen by the youthful robbers, who immediately made a break for liberty. Harris grabbed and brought the second to a halt by threats to shoot. The third one, who was in the left of the barn, and had been passing down the sacks of oats, managed to escape his captives in the darkness. When the capture was made, three sacks of oats were found in the buggy.

At the station the boys told conflicting stories, but made a strong bluff at their own innocence, saying that the buggy was owned by the fellow who got away and they did not know where he had gone. They protested that they had simply gone to the barn with him to take a ride, and they thought he was taking his own oats. Their nervous manner and bungling stories left little doubt as to their guilt. After the boys had been booked at police headquarters, Patrolman Harris and Kelly returned to the barn and a search revealed the fact that the robbery had been planned on a big scale. Eighteen sacks of oats had been driven down from the loft and piled at the door where they could be loaded into the buggy. Just where the young men intended to locate and dispose of their plunder was not told to them.

Shortly after midnight W. J. Morton, residing at Tenth West and Tenth North streets, reported to police headquarters that his horse and buggy had been stolen from the corner of First South and West Temple streets, where he had left it hitched earlier in the evening. Anticipating some connection between the missing horse and the robbery, Morton was brought into Lieutenant Hempel's office, where when confronted with the owner of the horse, he admitted that they had taken the horse and buggy from the corner mentioned for the purpose of hauling away the oats. This added to the gravity of the burglary charge, which had been already lodged against the two boys.

The horse, which had been placed in a stable by the police, was identified by Morton as the one stolen from him. King and Smith still refuse to divulge the identity of their accomplice who escaped.

The annual election of officers of the Utah National bank was also held, and all officers were re-elected for another year. W. S. McCormick will continue as president of the institution; T. R. Cutler, vice president; R. T. Badger, cashier, and C. H. Wells, assistant cashier. E. M. Allison, Jr., was elected as an additional director. VERDICT IN SMOKE CASE

The second hearing of the "smoke suit" of J. H. Sissam against the United States Smelting company was closed yesterday afternoon, when a jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $750. The case has been before the federal court for the second time since Tuesday, Jan. 12. The verdict rendered yesterday is satisfactory to all parties, and no appeal will be taken. Sissam brought suit against the United States Smelting company about one year ago for $11,424. The jury before which the case was first tried awarded Sissam $1,210.15. The smelting company was not satisfied with the verdict, and filed a motion for a new trial on the grounds that the verdict was not in accordance with the evidence. A new trial was granted, which resulted in Sissam getting a verdict for $750. The complaint against the smelting company was that much of Sissam's live stock and his crops were badly damaged by the smoke and fumes from the smelter.

WHEN YOUR BACK ACHES

It is a Warning that the Kidneys are Sick and Need Help

A bad back turns every twenty-four hours into one dull round of pain and misery—you are lame in the morning, nagged all day by a dull, throbbing backache, can't rest in the evening or sleep well at night. It hurts to bend over, straighten up, get up from a chair, or lift even a light weight. Any sudden twist, turn or awkward movement sends a tearing twinge of pain through the weak spot.

Backache is really kidney-ache. The kidneys are in the small of the back, and any pain there is enough cause to suspect your kidneys. If the urine is discolored, contains sandy sediment, or passes too frequently, then you have double proof. Keep the kidneys well and the kidneys will keep you well. Well kidneys filter the blood and keep it pure. Diseased kidneys only partly purify the blood. Neglect weak kidneys and you invite uric acid poisoning, gravel, stone in the kidney, rheumatism, heart trouble, diabetes, Bright's disease, and a long list of other serious disorders now recognized as having their cause in kidney weakness.

At the first sign of backache or urinary disorders, give the kidneys quick help, not with plaster, liniments, nor any other outside applications, but with a special kidney medicine.

The simplest and most effective remedy for sick kidneys is Doan's Kidney Pills. If there is weakness, congestion, inflammation or soreness, Doan's Kidney Pills quickly relieve it. They gently stimulate, tone and strengthen sick kidneys, drive away backache, rheumatic pain and dizziness, clear up and regulate the urine, and restore a perfect filtering of the blood. Best of all, this relief is permanent.

SALT LAKE CITY PROOF.

Benjamin Midgley, 523 South Second West street, Salt Lake City, Utah, says: "I wish to give Doan's Kidney Pills all the credit they deserve and I only hope that others suffering as I did will be led to try this remedy through my endorsement. For three or four years I suffered from pains in my back and through my kidney regions. I tried one remedy after another without getting the least help and at times it was all that I could do to attend to my work. The kidney secretions were disordered and the passages distressing. I was finally led to procure Doan's Kidney Pills and was gratified at the prompt relief they afforded. I used in all about four boxes and was completely cured of my trouble. Not a sign of it has ever reappeared."
